

Introduction:

The digital world is becoming a sure thing in everyone's life year after year, everyone knows this, and big financial institutions are making their way in the crypto space dragging everyone's attention. There are thousands of choices, but there are only a few winners. You would not want to put all your life savings in a token that has nothing behind it, you would risk waking up next day and realise that all your money were gone. However, there are many attractive tokens that have great teams behind them and are making sure there is growth and continuity for their projects. You would really want to invest in this kind of projects that can guarantee each investor there are benefits attached to their investments, and even more you would make sure to invest early so will enjoy more benefits along the way. The benefits are closely linked to the utility of such tokens.

What if apart from the token price continuous appreciation you would receive passive income?

This is where SAFEMOON FINANCE comes in. It is frictionless yield and liquidity generation smart contract protocol that works by applying 10% fee for each transaction and instantly splitting that fee by rewarding holders with 5% and auto locking 5% in Pancake LP. Holders can enjoy earning rewards by just holding SAFEMOON FINANCE tokens in their wallets. Contract allows excluding certain addresses like PancakeSwap from receiving rewards, as well allowing including certain address to receive reward if required.

Not only that, but SAFEMOON FINANCE had also built a lottery system which is fair and generates benefits for its participants, charities, and holders at the same time.

Why would I buy and hold SafeMoon Finance

Buying SAFEMOON FINANCE will ensure you of having invested your money in a project that is going to multiply your investment over time. By just HODL-ing you are making more money than any bank can offer as interest or compound interest return. Not only compared to banks, but the passive reward system that SAFEMOON FINANCE holders benefit from is even better than burns and buy-backs systems, there are burns taking place in SAFEMOON FINANCE as well.

The team is working tirelessly on producing best projects that have the potential of lifting this to new heights. There is a vision and a devoted team that is using their amazing skills in a creative way to achieve success.

We are not looking to pump this token's price without having done our work first, any hype without logic is usually doomed to fail. Therefore, we would like to prove ourselves first and success will follow.

Soon after creating this token we managed to gather over 20,000 holders, apply for an exchange listing, got into the top gainers on CoinMarketCap, and worked hard to build a top-notch website and lottery platform.

If these are not enough, keep in mind that there is more to come, as we have plans to create our own merchandise, develop partnerships, integrate NFT's, and much more.

Tokenomics

The main thing about SAFEMOON FINANCE is that it runs a smart code that takes away 10% of each buy or sale transaction and sends 5% to the LP, and the 5% is split among all holders, on the proportional basis, so the more you hold, the more you receive as passive income. This ensures you are getting passive income along with the continuous price appreciation.
